

[State Forest] Wild Areas are generally extensive tracts managed to protect the forest's wild character and to provide backcountry recreational opportunities.

A Natural Area is an area within a state park [or forest] of unique scenic, geologic, or ecological value ... maintained in a natural condition.

A National Natural Landmark is a nationally significant natural area ... designated by the Secretary of the Interior [as ...] one of the best examples of a type of biological community or geological feature in a [given location].
